

Interfaith Clergy Support Group

We are proud to offer an interfaith Clergy Support Group to encourage peer-to-peer interaction and support.

While the design of this group is for members of the clergy to connect and help each other, every session is facilitated by a licensed therapist who will prompt and encourage conversation, and assess individuals who may benefit from more intensive services.

This is an open group format, allowing anyone to join at any time. You may complete an enrollment form at your first group, or download a form from our website at Support Groups & Services-Provident Behavioral Health St. Louis (providentstl.org).
